Court Outlaws BIRTH CONTROL Warns Doctors

Rule Politics Out in Probe Of Revere

Warning that "politics ought to have no part in your deliberations" was sounded to the "blue ribbon" grand jury today by Judge Frederick W. Fosdick as the jurors opened their probe into Revere racketeering.

"You must not advance or retard anyone politically," admonished the jurist.

"You should hew to the line, regardless of whom it hits or how it hits."

Only 20 grand jurors began the investigation which results from conditions in Revere unearthed as the result of the racket slaying of Louis Gastat, cafe owner and gambler, last October.

Two jurors have been excused.

Closing Dolan Pleas

The only basis for the contempt of court charge against Edmund L. Dolan is testimony by "a couple of dizzy detectives," it was asserted today in superior court by his counsel, Timothy F. Callahan.

In the first of the defense final arguments Callahan was to be followed by Attorney Francis X. Hurley, representing J. Walter Quinn, and by Robert Dinamore, his own counsel.

Four defendants originally went to trial, but yesterday Harold Simpson of Brookline was found not guilty by Judge Frederick W. Fosdick.

DETECTIVES HIT

Callahan directed his principal guns in his argument against Private Detectives Daniel J. Haley and Alfred Bligh retained by the district attorney's office to investigate alleged attempts by the defendants at jury-fixing.

"Circumstances must influence you to believe that they are telling the truth to convict Dolan," Callahan told Judge Dolan.

"You have to believe Bligh and Haley to find Dolan guilty."

These two men say they listened through a wall in a closet

Birth control is absolutely outlawed in Massachusetts, the full bench of the State Supreme Court ruled today.

DR. LORD-HEINSTEIN
Conviction Upheld

The court upheld the convictions of Dr. Lucille Lord-Heinstein, Carolyn T. Gardner, Flora Rand and Pamela Ferris, who were found guilty in the so-called Salem birth control test case a year ago.

The four women, operators of the "North Shore Mothers' Health Office," were under sentence to pay fines of $100 each for violation of the statute that forbids selling or giving away prescriptions or devices aimed at birth control.

They contended physicians were exempt from the prohibitions of the statute where questions of life or health were involved.

The Supreme Court today, however, ruled that even physicians have no right to prescribe such treatment "under any circumstances."

The provisions of the law, the court ruled, are "plain and unequivocal and peremptory. They contain no exceptions. They are sweeping, absolute, and devoid of ambiguity. They are directed with undeviating explicitness against the prevention of conception by any of the means specified."

The court's decision was written by Chief Justice A. P. Rugg.

In 1879, when the statute was adopted, the decision points out, the "moral and social wrongs" of birth control quite plainly so appeared to the General Court that "unconditional prohibition" was intended by the law.

The statute itself, the court held, is unquestionably constitutional. If the law now is objected to, the decision remarks, a change must be sought through legislative, rather than court action.

Konrad Henlein, the "Czech Hitler," gives the following exclusive interview on the Central European crisis to G. Ward Price, noted British journalist. Price discussed the present tense situation with Henlein, who says general disastrous war can only be averted by settling the Sudeten question quickly.

Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German party, told me this after the funeral of two Sudetens killed during the present crisis by Czech police.

"Political fermentation in this country," he continued, "is poisoning the whole central European situation."

JUST GO AND BEG!

"If it were to continue it might before long lead to a war so universally ruinous that the only fate left for the Europeans who survived would be to go and beg for bananas in Africa."

"What I offer the Czechs is the loyal co-operation of the German population of this artificially compounded state on a basis of full autonomy in those districts where a majority of the population is of the German race."

"If this is conceded the present national frontiers of Czechoslovakia would remain unchanged."

The autonomous Sudeten area would consist of an almost continuous strip of territory along the national boundary some 50 miles deep at its broadest and also of one or two 'language islands' in the interior of the western part of Czechoslovakia.

"I propose that German local autonomy should mainly be achieved by restoring to municipalities and districts those powers which have gradually been whittled away from them."

FRESS FLEBISCITE

"If this solution is rejected we will be forced to press for another alternative, which would be that we will demand the right of self-determination which has been denied us."

"We will press for the holding of a plebiscite under foreign control in order to secure free voting."

Big Shakeup In Jap Cabinet

TOKYO, May 26 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito tonight installed two powerful generals and a towering figure in the world of finance as ministers in a drastic cabinet reorganization designed to permit more vigorous prosecution of the war in China.

General Kazushige Ugaki, former governor-general of Korea, became foreign minister, replacing Koki Hirota.

General Baron Sadao Araki, ex-war minister, who has preached the necessity of some day fighting Soviet Russia, took the lesser post of minister of education.

Seihin Ikeda, Harvard-educated, former directing head of the vast Mitsui interests and governor of the bank of Japan, took the portfolio of finance, relinquished by Okinobu Kaya.

Czechs Charge 'Air Invasion'

PRAHA, May 26 (AP)—A government spokesman said tonight that a German warplane had been sighted on a flight over Czechoslovakia's great munitions plant, the Skoda factory, at Plzen (Pilsen).

The report cast a shadow over the prospects of a German-Czechoslovak settlement.

The flight over Plzen, some 50 miles from the German border in western Bohemia, was said by the spokesman to have been one of three border violations yesterday.

Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta had assured German Minister

Ernst Eisner that the Czechoslovak government had taken measures to prevent such violations by its own planes after Eisner cited three cases.

Krofta cited 14 instances of aerial trespassing by Germany, involving 34 planes, between last Friday and yesterday. He said that in some cases the planes flew in formation.

Salute to Mary

Sad Queen Mother 71 Today

QUEEN MOTHER MARY

LONDON, May 26 (AP)—Dignified Queen Mother Mary, unbending guardian of orthodoxy in Britain's royal family, is 71 years old today.

Batteries in Hyde Park boomed salutes, and public and private buildings hoisted flags, but Queen Mary's only celebration was a family luncheon party.

Among her first visitors were her grandchildren, 12-year-old Princess Elizabeth, and her eight-year-old sister, Margaret Rose.

Edward, her favorite son, probably telephoned from France.

Queen Mary has traveled a long way along the royal road, not always smooth. When she married the late King George V, then Duke of York, July 6, 1893, she was mourning George's elder brother, the Duke of Clarence, to whom she had been engaged.

Still mourning George V she saw her eldest son quit the throne for love of American-born Wallis Simpson.

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, May 26 — Europe still shivered under the impact of the Czechoslovakian crisis today and the German press openly warned that Germany may resort to force if Czech border violations continue.

But Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, playing a role far removed from that ascribed to him by international alarmists, embarked upon a high pressure sales campaign to popularize a new German "poor man's automobile" designed to put repair shops out of business.

Possibly to preserve an atmosphere of official calm while the Nazi press fulminated and spoke darkly of "force replacing diplomacy," the Fuehrer laid the cornerstone of an automotive factory at Fallersleben, near Brunswick, and extolled the glories of the open road.

SMALL CAR

Type Hitler May Sell

40 MILES A GALLON

He offered to the German public a car made to sell for $396 and guaranteed to run 60,000 miles without repairs. He promised also that it would do 40 miles to the gallon.

"This streamlined four-seater," he said, "is a mechanical marvel. It can be bought on the installment plan for $2.40 a week, and this will include insurance."

"The automobile in Germany must be the instrument of the masses instead of the luxury of a few hundred thousand especially favored by fortune."

"In this country, the automobile has ceased to be instrumental in dividing class from class and has actually become a means of transportation for all the people."

BAN ON INFLATION

"If an entire nation works, it wants to be paid for working so it can buy something for its money."

"The people of Germany do not want paper money which is not backed up by something tangible. They take solution of this problem lightly in some other countries, either living on reserves supplied in the past, or credit or by printing paper money."

"We want none of that here."

The Fuehrer termed the new factory the greatest automotive plant in Europe. Together with it he dedicated a "model city" for the workers employed there.

HEART BALM

Suits Here Outlawed

MRS. KATHERINE A. FOLEY

There will be no gold salvage value for a broken heart in Massachusetts after September 1.

Governor Charles F. Hurley has signed a bill outlawing breach of promise suits in this state after that date.

Officials of the court seemed generally agreed today that the newly established heart balm deadline would spur to immediate action many a fair plaintiff bent on collecting cash for a "shattered romance."

WOMAN RESPONSIBLE

There remain only approximately 90 days for filing court actions in behalf of women, young or old, who hope to have a jury put a money price on their disappointments in love.

So-called "heart balm" suits, brought in the general legal category of claims for breach of contract, were outlawed by this session of the Massachusetts legislature.

And it was a woman, Representative Katherine A. Foley of Lawrence, who was principally responsible.

"LEGAL BLACKMAIL"

She is a widow and the mother of three children.

Victory finally crowned her four-year fight against what she described as "legalized blackmail."

She asserted that no real woman could value the love of a man in dollars and cents—that woman who put a price on heartbreak and then tried to collect was just as bad, and less honest, than the jealousy victim who used a gun.

Mrs. Foley's bill was proposed "with a view to preserving the marriage institution and protecting public morals."

What Defense Alienists Testify:

'Love Killer Insane'

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 26—The defense rested today at the trial of Donald Carroll after two psychiatrists had testified that when the 16-year-old boy fired a bullet into Charlotte Matthiesen's heart he was insane.

And as Charlotte died she, too, was insane, the alienists agreed, holding that both boy and girl ceased to be mentally normal the moment they decided on a suicide pact.

Following brief testimony by state alienists, both sides were sum up in Queens County Court.

NAWARE OF ACTS

The psychiatrists, Dr. Edward M. Gould and Dr. Samuel Feigin, greatly aided the temporary insanity defense theory set up in the youth's behalf by his counsel.

Dr. Feigin testified he felt that immediately previous to the shooting Donald "was suffering from a mental disease" and answered in the affirmative when asked whether, at the time he pulled the trigger, the lad was "labouring under such defective reasoning" as to be unaware of the quality of his acts.

Dr. Feigin remained unshaken under cross-examination on both his main contentions—that both Donald and Charlotte were insane, temporarily at least, when the fatal shot was fired. Their mental fog, he said, began on the day that they agreed on the suicide pact that brought death to Charlotte, trial for his life for Donald.

Sanity did not return to the lad, the doctor insisted, until "the first heard the explosion of the shot (that killed the girl) and saw the blood." He admitted the presence of an intent to kill in Donald's mind, but argued that it arose out of his deluded mentality.

DEFENSE RESTS

The psychiatrist indicated, too, that it was Donald who followed where Charlotte led. Assistant District Attorney Loscazo asked:

"Would you say she was dominated by this defendant?"

"It was just the other way from what I gather," the doctor replied.

Dr. Gould testified: "In my opinion he (Donald) did not know the nature and quality of his act, or that it was wrong."

Q—Was he suffering from a mental disease? A—He was.

Q—Could the actual occurrence have been sufficient to return him to normal? A—It could.

The defense then rested.

Baby Makes Bride of Ickes Blush

LONDON, May 26 (INS)—A cockney who proudly displayed his baby today brought smiles to Harold L. Ickes, American secretary of the interior, and blushes to his young bride of two days as they arrived here from Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ickes were surrounded by a small crowd at the station when the cockney rushed up from behind and thrust the infant between them.

"Look!" said Ickes, calling his bride's attention, only to see her face redden.

Ickes and his bride are tentatively planning to sail on the French liner Ile De France May 31, it was understood.

Helen Best in Quest For Air Talent

By ANN MARSTERS

Helen Hughes has won another Talent Quest.

This time it's a radio talent quest in which she was selected by Kate Smith as New England's outstanding dramatic prospect.

And it means that she will appear on the Kate Smith radio hour this evening, between 8 and 9 o'clock, over a coast-to-coast hookup.

Last fall, this 20-year-old Emerson College student, whose home is in Houlton, Maine, won the Boston Evening American Movie Talent Quest, and was sent to Hollywood with a month's contract at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

First Selected

Helen is the first person to be selected in Kate Smith's quest for talent. The famous radio singer will continue her quest in other sections of the country, and each week she will present some young person whom she believes has outstanding possibilities.

Miss Hughes was one of several New Englanders selected by Kate Smith's representatives in Boston. Then Kate herself made the final choice by studying photographs and recommended talents of the various applicants.

Helen went to New York yesterday to rehearse the radio skit written especially for the Kate Smith hour. She will receive $100 for her part in the program tonight.

Career Promising

With such recognition of her talent, the career of Helen Hughes certainly appears to be promising.

In the Boston Evening American Talent Quest, she won out over thousands of New England girls and young men. And now we feel a kind of personal pride in the fact that her potentialities as an actress have again been recognized and rewarded.

Church Congress Honors Youth

BUDAPEST, May 26 (AP)—Jean Cardinal Verdier, 74-year-old archbishop of Paris, today celebrated high mass for 150,000 children before a lofty altar in Heroes' square to open the second day of the 34th Eucharistic congress.

As early as 7 a. m., priests began to gather at the altar. An hour and 40 minutes later they formed for the procession to the main altar. The throng of children, who came to receive communion, had spent months gathering kernels of wheat—one for each good deed.

Peace was the theme of the service.

"No peace will reign on earth until the eternal laws of Christ become public property of all Christians," Cardinal Verdier said in his sermon.

It was Ascension Day and thousands of peasants in picturesque costumes poured into Budapest from the provinces.

BUDAPEST, May 26 (INS)—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, attacked "political extremists" and blamed them for "turning the world upside down" in a speech at a dinner in the royal palace which followed the formal opening of the 34th International Eucharistic Congress.

"And while the world has gone upside down," the cardinal said, "this congress stands out as an oasis of peace, love and Christian brotherhood."

Sultan to Wed Glamour Girl?

LONDON, May 26 (INS)—The London Daily Express reported today that the engagement of Lydia Cecilia Hill, 24-year-old London glamour girl, to the 64-year-old Sultan of Johore is expected to be announced shortly.

The Sultan's marriage to his Scottish wife, the former Mrs. Helen Wilson, recently was terminated by Mohammedan divorce rites, in accordance with which the Sultan four times repeated the word "talak," which means "get out."

Indict Hines, Of Tammany

NEW YORK, May 26—James J. ("Jimmy") Hines, one-time blacksmith, Tammany Hall politician, called "the most powerful political leader in New York," was named today along with 11 others in indictments returned by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's "racket busting" grand jury.

Hines is charged with being the political "power behind the throne" in the late "Dutch" Schultz $100,000-000-a-year policy racket empire. The indictments charge him with receiving a "take" of from $500 to $5000 a week.

With Tammany Hall in an up-rear, the naming of Hines in connection with the Schultz "mob" has set the stage for what political observers say may be the biggest upheaval since the exposure of Boss Tweed.

OTHERS INDICTED

Named with Hines in today's indictments are, among others, Schultz (now dead), J. Richard ("Dixie") Davis, Schultz's attorney; George Weinberg, "Bo" Weinberg, "Able the Killer" Landau, Otto Biederman, Martin Weintraub, John Courcy and Solly Girsch.

Landau is known to be dead—"liquidated" in gang warfare—along with Schultz. "Bo" Weinberg, long missing, is supposed to be interred in concrete at the bottom of the Harlem River.

Daniel L. Smith, described as a former policeman, and three alleged policy "collectors"—Joseph and M. J. Isen, and Alexander Pompey—originally were named, but were omitted from a superseding indictment handed up today to Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora by Evertson Welling, the grand jury foreman.

FACES 13 COUNTS

It was explained that Smith, the Isens and Pompey are to be state's witnesses against Hines and his co-defendants.

Hines was arrested yesterday on a separate complaint charging him specifically with "confining, drawing and proposing a lottery." Today's indictment contains 12 felony counts and one conspiracy count.

Conviction on all 13 counts would render him liable to sentences to-falling 25 years. Since Hines, who started life as a blacksmith, is 61 years old, 25 years would mean virtual life imprisonment.

A crowd estimated by police at 11,000 gathered in front of the Supreme Court building to catch a glimpse of Hines. Hines was not present when the indictment was returned against him, but went to the court building to deposit an additional $5000 on the bail on which he was released after being arrested yesterday.

Others named in the indictment are Harry ("Big Harry") Schoenhaus and Harry ("Little Harry") Wolf.

HELD IN $20,000

"Big Harry" Schoenhaus and George Weinberg are understood to have done the "talking" on which the charges involving Hines with the Schultz gang's operations are based.

"Little Harry" Wolf is a fugitive. Hines and other defendants are to be arraigned on the indictment tomorrow. Hines was released yesterday on the lottery charge in bonds of $20,000.

"This defendant," Dewey charged in court, "was a co-conspirator and part of the Dutch Schultz mob. He, Schultz and Bo and George Weinberg conspired to force all independent policy operators under one domination, by force, violence, intimidation, beatings and other means until they were brought into line."

Hines' "take," Dewey charged, has been from $500 to $1000 a week. Hines himself today flatly denied Dewey's charges.

"Ridiculous!" he snarled. "I defy Mr. Dewey to prove it." "Did you know Dutch Schultz?"

JAMES J. HINES

he was asked.

"What do you mean by 'know him'?" he countered.

'NONSENSE' TO HIM

"Were you acquainted with him, or did you have merely a passing acquaintance?"

"I knew him if I saw him on the street," Hines admitted. "I knew him as a public character—why! I've been in that district 52 years."

"When Schultz operated in your district, it was said he could not have done so without your knowledge or approval—is that true?" Hines was asked.

"Nonsense!" He retorted.

District Attorney Dewey stated in court yesterday:

"This is the result of a three-year investigation into the policy racket in New York."

Hines Linked to N. E. Sporting Circles

James J. ("Jimmy") Hines, New York Tammany leader, is well known in Massachusetts political and sports circles.

As the perhaps most powerful individual leader of Tammany Hall, his political interests extend from Boston to Washington. Not active in Democratic affairs in Massachusetts, he nevertheless has been, on numerous occasions influential in councils affecting New England and New York.

In Bay State sports circles, Hines is chiefly known for his past association with the old New Hampshire Breeders' Association, since reorganized operators of Rockingham Park. He has a wide acquaintance among owners of racing stables in New York.

one foot nine inches by three feet six and a half inches. Bligh is over 300 pounds and as wide as the chest itself, and Haley is almost as big as Bligh.

"INCONCEIVABLE"

"It is inconceivable that they could have done that. The Statler is a new hotel and it is inconceivable that they could have heard a conversation through one wall, much less two."

"It is not inconceivable that, because they were paid to get evidence, they added to it and colored it to make it look important to a district attorney."

"The important feature is that there isn't the slightest variation between the testimony of these two. That is suspicious in itself."

"Why were no Boston police officers, attached to the district attorney's office, sent up to corroborate any of this. It is extraordinary that the district attorney should not have done this."

Each of the three defendants is allotted one hour for final arguments, with two hours given over to the prosecution.

There was considerable delay in beginning the arguments, however, because defense counsel made a total of 78 requests for rulings.

Politics Taboo In Revere Probe Of Rackets

until next Tuesday, while the other who was to have completed the group of 23 could not be found.

Before beginning their deliberations, the "blue ribboners" elected William J. Sullivan, salesman, of 75 Hancock street, Dorchester, as foreman, and Robert F. Wynn, bank clerk, of 7 Oakton avenue, Brighton, as clerk.

Judge Fosdick then swore in Miss Gertrude M. Maloney, Suffolk county indictment clerk, as stenographer for the grand jury.

First to go into the grand jury room as a witness was Arthur E. Crowley, chief state accountant.

IN O'BRIEN INQUIRY

Crowley figured some time ago in an investigation of a reported $13,000 shortage in the accounts of Mayor James J. O'Brien when O'Brien was Revere city treasurer.

Waiting to testify was Miss Josephine E. Farrell, Revere city auditor, who was O'Brien's secretary when he was treasurer.

After that investigation had started the money was said to have been found in a shoe box, with state officials puzzled over the fact that it was all in bills of a newer issue.

On the grand jury today as it opened the racket probe were eight new men, drawn Tuesday by the Boston city council, as replacements for others who had been found unavailable.

MAY QUESTION 300

The city council drew nine names on Tuesday, but the owner of one could not be found.

Thus far more than 170 summonses have been served on witnesses in the probe, and it is expected that about 300 witnesses will eventually be called, including Mayor O'Brien, many other city officials and nearly the entire police department.

Seal Treasury On Monastery

VIENNA, May 26 (AP)—The abbot of the famous Monastery of Mariazell, which is Austria's foremost holy shrine, said today that state police had sealed the monastery's treasury.

The action, he said, was in connection with the confiscation of the entire property of the Monastery of St. Lambrecht in Styria, for which no reasons were given.

Job Wives Renew Battle

Former working wives, ousted from jobs in Somerville city departments, took up legal cudgels again today in defense of feminine "payroll rights."

Mrs. Mary C. Welch was first plaintiff-witness to testify at a continued public hearing before Mayor or John M. Lynch, in Somerville's aldermanic chamber.

She was among five married women ready to complain today that their wedding rings cost them city positions to which their efficiency and industry entitled them.

Three other ousted working wives told their stories at a previous hearing, earlier this week.

Attorney Wendell P. Murray, counsel for the dismissed wives, today renewed his claim that Mayor Lynch, in "abolishing" the city jobs of married women, "violated letter and spirit of the state civil service law."

the gasket blew out, were severely burned on their bodies and hands by the gas under heavy pressure.

None of the children, the doctors, nurses or attendants was affected by the fumes, however, except for the necessity of coughing.

QUITS FIREMEN

Here of the occasion was Michael A. Flynn, executive supervisor of the South Department, where all the excitement occurred.

Flynn, after sounding a still alarm and warning firemen not to use whistles or bells on arriving, raced back and directed the work of hospital employees who attempted, but in vain, to shut off the gas flow.

Meanwhile, doctors, nurses and attendants, summoned by a hospital emergency alarm, were rushing to the South Department from other sections of the hospital and from the nurses' home and training school.

Within a few minutes of the alarm there were more than 100 doctors and nurses assembled in the South Department, but except for the two engineers, George Harkins and Norman McPherson, no one needed treatment.

RUSH TO PATIENTS

The gasket blew out midway during the luncheon period at the hospital and about 70 doctors, nurses and attendants were eating in the South Department dining room when the acid fumes rolled through the building.

With only the safety of the patients in mind the diners ran outside and made their way up fire escapes to the wards.

It was found necessary, to remove child patients only from Ward M.M. Some were bundled up and rolled out to verandas, while others were removed to Ward H.H. Most of the children were scarlet fever patients.

With gas masks and wet handkerchiefs over their faces, some of the hospital workers, meanwhile, were attempting to find from where the gas was escaping. Harkins and McPherson having been driven out of the room and disabled in the blast.

When the firemen arrived, however, in charge of District Chief John J. O'Brien, members of Rescue Co. No. 2 donned gas masks and shut off the refrigerating plant.

Dr. Edwin L. Place, in charge of the South Department, said most of the gas arising to the upstairs floors apparently had come up through air shafts.

The American Unitarian Association today named Sanford Bates, noted authority on prison management, as its new moderator.

It was explained that the new office closely corresponds to the former position of president of the general conference.

The Unitarian Fellowship, now holding its annual conference in Boston, continued to adopt platform. Today members endorsed lifting the embargo against Loyalist Spain and denounced aggression in China. It also approved President Roosevelt's plan to admit Jewish refugees to the United States.

N. E. Thousands Hope for Best In Sweep Draw

Thousands of New Englanders wished themselves luck today as the committee of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes made ready to draw holders of starting horses in Dublin.

At the same time, customs officials here said they were "more than successful" this year in stemming the flow of illegal duels into New England.

More than 370,000 tickets were seized aboard the steamer Toronto City at Portland, Me., while about 480,000 were picked up in Portland harbor.

Approximately 10,000 tickets have been seized in the mails, Boston post office officials revealed.

Johnson Tells U.S. Defense Needs

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 26 (AP)—America's military machine, in the opinion of Louis Johnson, Assistant Secretary of War, probably is better prepared than ever before, but needs further strengthening.

"We are not yet ready, if called upon, to take the field in defense of America," he said last night in an address to the Army Ordnance Association.

Richardson Gets Navy Bureau Post

WASHINGTON, May 26 (INS)—President Roosevelt has nominated Rear Admiral James O. Richardson to be chief of the Bureau of Navigation.

Richardson, a former assistant chief of the bureau, succeeds Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, transferred at the end of a four-year term of duty to command of the scouting force. Richardson will take over the bureau the middle of next month.

Hearst Company To Sell Prize Herd

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 26—Robert Muckler, secretary of the California State Fair, announced today that the Hearst Sanitary Land Packing Company will conduct a dispersal sale of 70 pure bred Jersey cattle from San Simeon at state fair grounds on June 6. Muckler said many of the cattle to be auctioned already are on the grounds.

URGES EL STAIRWAYS

Construction of stairways at the Egleston square station of the Boston Elevated to protect passengers crossing Washington street was urged today by City Councillor Edward L. Engliert.

Blocks Jewel Theft

BROCKTON, May 26—A dozen shots were fired and a patrolman fell and broke his shoulder today when police arrested an alleged jewel thief after a two-mile foot chase through downtown streets.

Officers in three squad cars, answering a call from a restaurant cashier that a man had just thrown a brick through a store window, saw the thief running from a Main street jewelry shop.

Shots rang out from the revolvers of Patrolman Omar Houde, Thomas Corbett and Hugh McCarthy as they gave chase. Houde tripped and broke his shoulder when he fell.

Patrolman McCarthy, new member of the Brockton police force, caught the man in Fairmont street. He gave his name as Alfred J. Landry, 25, police said, and was booked for breaking and entry and larceny.

Ban $400,000 For Cambridge

The move of Mayor John W. Lyons of Cambridge for authority to borrow $400,000 outside the city debt limit for reconstruction of schools recently condemned as fire-traps was killed in the Senate today through the intervention of Senator Arthur F. Blanchard, of Cambridge.

When the question came up in the Senate, Blanchard charged, among other things, that the mayor could have the work performed inside the debt limit.

Hurley Rejects Highway Bill

Governor Hurley today threw back into the Legislature's lap the $8,000,000 highway distribution bill, ruled invalid by Attorney-General Paul A. Dever.

Immediately after the bill had been sent back with a message from the governor Republicans in both branches called executive sessions to decide on further procedure.

In his message the governor said:

"I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill 2026, entitled 'An Act Providing for the Distribution by the Commonwealth to its Municipalities of a Sum of Money From the Highway Fund,' for the following reasons:

"1—Under the provisions of Section 3 of the 63rd amendment to the Constitution of Massachusetts, before final action on the general appropriation bill, the General Court shall not enact any other appropriation bill, except on recommendation of the governor.

CITES LAW VIOLATION

"Your honorable bodies have enacted House Bill 2026 before final action on the general appropriation bill in direct violation of this section.

"The fact that you have inserted in House Bill 2026 the statement 'without appropriation' does not change the fact that this bill is an appropriation bill.

"Your honorable bodies cannot insert language inconsistent with the facts and expect that language to prevail over constitutional requirements.

"The true tenor of legislation cannot be determined by the label imposed on such legislation.

"2—Section 4 of the 63rd amendment provides that after final action on an appropriation bill, special provisions may be enacted. House Bill 2026 was enacted contrary to this section of the Constitution and is, therefore, invalid.

SUBMITS RULING

"I am annexing for your consideration the original opinion submitted to me by the attorney general."

The governor's action revives the jam in the House last week when Democratic Leader John F. Aspell, spokesman for the governor, offered a substitute bill for the $8,000,000 measure.

His substitute called for diversion of $4,000,000 from the gas tax fund to the general fund as a move through which the governor could reduce the amount charged cities and towns for the state tax this year.

In this bill, Aspell had a section calling for $4,000,000 to be used strictly on highway work under jurisdiction of the State Public Works Department, over which Governor Hurley has direct control.

The $8,000,000 bill rejected by the governor would have given jurisdiction to the cities and towns.

Launch Drive To Make Flag Day Holiday

Special to Boston Evening
American

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 26.—Wisconsin, which 60 years ago, gave birth to National Flag Day, today is the scene of the start of a movement to make Flag Day—June 14—a national holiday.

Believing Flag Day has a meaning of vital significance to all Americans, their daily life and national institutions, a number of outstanding citizens of Milwaukee today moved to implant in the national consciousness the need for changing Flag Day from a mere name to a legal holiday.

These public spirited people feel they have an excellent chance of achieving this goal.

They point to the success of the movement started in the little town of Fredonia, Wis., more than half a century ago—the movement to have June 14 designated as Flag Day.

Today the new campaign to have the nation adopt Flag Day as one of its legal holidays is launched in the metropolis of Milwaukee, which is closely in tune with the tenor of the times, both here and abroad.

The roster of those to make Flag Day a national holiday who have joined this movement, is studded with names of men who have been put to the acid test to preserve the liberty they and their fellow Americans enjoy.

Ruling Assures Chimes for Church

The Parish of the Epiphany Church, Winchester, today was authorized to begin installation of a bell tower and chimes following a decision of Judge Arthur E. Beane in Middlesex court.

In 1924, Henry C. Miller bequeathed $10,000 to the church for that purpose, with the provision an additional $15,000 sum must be left for the work within 10 years. His wife, who died since, bequeathed the $15,000. A Boston bank trustee for the Miller estate, had petitioned to revert the money to the estate for distribution to the heirs.

Warren Chosen Overseers Head

Clifford P. Warren, member of the board of overseers of the Boston public welfare department for four years, today began duties as chairman of the board, succeeding the late James A. McMurray.

He was elected by vote of the 10 other overseers, who at the same time elected John J. Walsh, Boston attorney, as vice-chairman.

Born Liars

CHICAGO, May 26 (INS).—Children are born liars and will continue so unless properly trained, Mrs. Sidonie M. Grunberg, director of the Child Study Association of America, said today.

"No child is born truthful," she said. "Like morality, that virtue is not inherent. But it can be acquired if proper methods are used to teach it."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys—How To Get Happy Relief

If backache and leg pains are nagging you noticeably, don't just complain and moan about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 2 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, brittleness in the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Jap Girl Begs Aid To China

A pretty Japanese graduate student from Columbia University today bitterly attacked her country's Chinese policy and begged 3000 women attending the 46th annual session of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs to boycott Japanese-made goods.

Speaking to a crowded hall in the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Miss Haru Matsui, product of Japanese education before attending Columbia University, said: "Every pair of Japanese-made stockings you buy means a round of four bullets for a Japanese soldier to shoot down Chinese."

"The average Japanese citizen is not behind the conflict in China. It is run entirely by the war lords."

"If you wish to preserve peace and end the war in China boycott commodities made in Japan."

20,000 Pay Visit To New Bakery

More than 20,000 persons inspected the new Kasanoff-Paramount Bakery, Mattapan, at an open house sponsored by Samuel Cole, general manager and owner.

Each was presented with a loaf of Paramount's Nu-Ry bread, containing the stomach regulating psyllium seeds and made from a secret formula brought to the country from Russia many years ago. Modern machinery, insuring excellent baking products, has been installed in the new plant.

Political Bolts Peril New Deal In 3 States

WASHINGTON, May 26 (INS)—Political lightning today played brightly over Roosevelt administration hopes on impending state primaries and off year elections, crackling sharply in Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Iowa.

These were the three immediate hot spots.

Already President Roosevelt has taken direct command in the ticklish Pennsylvania situation, where his forces were trying desperately to win back to regular party support CIO Chairman John L. Lewis and the 500,000 votes his gubernatorial candidate rolled up in the primaries. Lewis has shown no apparent susceptibility.

From national Democratic Chairman Farley down, the Democratic leadership has conceded it can't win in Pennsylvania without Lewis support.

In Kentucky, fireworks popped over a feud between campaign managers for Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler, opposing the staunch administration figure Senator Alben W. Barkley, and the Works Progress Administration. Judge Brady M. Stewart, Chandler manager, wrote to President Roosevelt directly, charging "scandalous" use of relief money in Kentucky to steer votes away from the Governor. WPA officials refused to recognize the charges.

WPA Chief Hopkins himself was under fire mainly for his observation that he personally preferred the administration candidate, Representative Otha D. Wearin, in the Iowa Democratic senatorial primary over his opponent, Senator Gillette, who opposed the President's Supreme Court revamping proposal.

U.S. Pilots Fly Mexico Ships

MEXICO CITY, May 26 (AP)—The Mexican government today said its planes raided and destroyed a Ceditista rebel airport a few hours after War Minister Manuel Avila Camacho had declared rebel planes, some of them flown by United States pilots, had bombed several small towns occupied by loyal Federalists.

The Mexican government said today that the Ceditista rebels had been flying from the airport for several days, and that the planes had been flying over the town of Ceditista, and had been flying over the town of Ceditista, and had been flying over the town of Ceditista.

Modern Miracles Continue To Rule Lives of 5 Little Girls

the quintuplets, it must be realized that they began life under tremendous disadvantages imposed by multiple birth, which came two months too soon.

It was, in all truth, a modern miracle—first, that the five little girls were born (for the odds are 57,000,000 to 1 against such births), and second, that they survived (for in no other of the 60 quintuplet births in medical history has the set remained unbroken for more than 50 minutes).

And now, as they begin the fifth year of their lives, a third modern miracle is taking place—and to a medical man it is perhaps more miraculous than those of their birth and early survival.

For the quins not only are making tremendous strides toward overcoming their disadvantages and achieving the norm for their age, but in some phases of development they have even surpassed the norm.

Those First Dark Days

Consider first the matter of size. The average weight at birth for female babies in Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, is a little under eight pounds each. On the second day of life for the quins, the combined weight of all five was only 13 pounds and 6 ounces. A few days later their combined weight had decreased to less than 10 pounds. Marie weighed only one and one-half pounds on that day.

Only an inherent vitality and a kindly Providence—aided by medical science and skilled nursing—kept the little girls alive through those first dark days.

And yet we find that on their third birthday, just a year ago, the quintuplets had overcome their terrible handicap of underweight and had even surpassed the norm for their age. Normal weight at three years is 30 pounds 5 ounces. Our babies' average weight at that time was 30 pounds 8 ounces. The same thing held true for other measurements, with the single exception of height, which was a trifle under the norm.

And during the past year as the quins approached the age of four, the girls have continued their normal gains in every respect. Latest measurements showed the following weights, heights, and the amount of gain for the last 11 months:

	Weight Lbs.	Gain Lbs.	Height In.	Gain In.
Yvonne	37 $\frac{1}{4}$	6 $\frac{1}{4}$	38	3 $\frac{1}{4}$
Annette	36 $\frac{1}{2}$	5	38	3 $\frac{1}{4}$
Cecile	35 $\frac{1}{2}$	4 $\frac{1}{2}$	38	3 $\frac{1}{2}$
Emilie	35 $\frac{1}{2}$	5 $\frac{1}{4}$	38	3 $\frac{1}{2}$
Marie	32 $\frac{1}{4}$	4 $\frac{1}{4}$	37 $\frac{1}{4}$	3 $\frac{1}{4}$

During the coming year, until they are five, all the girls except Marie should continue at about the same rate of weight and height increase. It is interesting to note that Marie, who has always been behind the others, is now growing at approximately the same rate as Annette and gaining weight at a faster rate than Cecile.

So much for the size factor.

Look about their health, or lack of it. The girls are healthy, robust, cheerful, and active. They are not fat, but they are not thin. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

FASTER THAN AVERAGE

Look at the girls' faces. The faces are healthy, rosy, and full of life. They are not pale, but they are not red. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

Look at the girls' bodies. The bodies are healthy, robust, and full of life. They are not thin, but they are not fat. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

Look at the girls' minds. The minds are healthy, robust, and full of life. They are not dull, but they are not bright. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

Look at the girls' spirits. The spirits are healthy, robust, and full of life. They are not sad, but they are not happy. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

They are developing rapidly. They are not slow, but they are not fast. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

DR. ALLAN ROY DAFEO

Dr. Dafoe, who was with the girls from birth, says they are "just right" and "just what a doctor would call 'just right'."

The quins' health is now fairly normal, with a single trace of delay in their growth and development. They are not fat, but they are not thin. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

FINANCES WELL GUARDED

All of the girls' finances are well guarded. They are not rich, but they are not poor. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

The quins' finances are well guarded. They are not rich, but they are not poor. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

There is a healthy, robust, and full of life. They are not dull, but they are not bright. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

Now the population of the quins is growing. They are not slow, but they are not fast. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

They are developing rapidly. They are not slow, but they are not fast. They are just what a doctor would call "just right."

Tomorrow—A typical day in the life of the quins. Don't miss this installment of Dr. Dafoe's exclusive report. And remember—an entrancing concluding chapter exclusively in next Sunday's Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Boston After Dark

By GEORGE HOLLAND

MISCELLANY: Officers of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in this state will be listening-in tonight on a national hook-up . . . No protest of the broadcast being permitted so widespread an airing will be made before the event . . . But if sedition utterances come over the ether, both organizations have agreed to make a joint protest to the Federal Radio Commission.

In the June issue of a new and pretentious magazine a sports-writer named Bert Griffin charges that the Red Sox have 40 corrupt ball-players on the payroll . . . If you happen to be in St. Louis, the word is correct with Griffin. Please to imagine you can find the Cardinals' newspaper in the front-back room of the Boston Hotel. . . . Boston features of the former Flash-Knaw of the Red Sox. . . . Boston's chief.

George Holland

Editorial praise is being heaped on H. Bayard Swann, Sonny Whitney and Charles S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit, for the sportsmanly gesture of calling the big match race off early enough to protect the public . . . Incidentally, cancellation of the race is thought to have hurt the success of the Ross-Amstrong fight tonight . . . Thousands of out-of-towners were planning on a tour of the metropolis, with the championship fight and the "race of the century" as the double attractions.

A Hero Pays for the Drinks:
A few days ago young man named Donald Connor, who works at a radio installation, jumped off the West Boston bridge in a vain attempt to save a young Chinese from drowning . . . Young Connor was not a good swimmer and his own life was spared because a police boat happened along in the so-called nick of time . . . The young man suffered a severe ducking, and as a result of immersion, he was taken to a hospital . . . There was no charge for this service . . . But as part of the recuperative treatment, Connor was given two drinks of whiskey . . . There to get a bill for $2.00 . . . As young Mr. Connor does not like whiskey and took the drinks under protest, he is slightly unhappy about the incident.

Once Over Lightly:
A young attorney in the law office of the Boston Herald is a bit of a light sleeper. One of the things he has been doing is to keep the Herald's light on the city's affairs. His employer for the week of the week was the Boston Herald.

Grant Rock's Hotel Coma-by-the-Sea will open for the season June 19, and Eddie Lewis the Boston lad who managed Ruby Foo's successful New York Den, probably will supervise the Coma's opening. George Raft and Richard Arlen have promised to stop off for the opening. They are coming east for the Louis-Schmeling fight June 22.

The hotel is a water garden with the New England type of a garden for guests. It will be known as the Grant Rock Hotel. The hotel is a water garden with the New England type of a garden for guests. It will be known as the Grant Rock Hotel.

Chatter:
Mary Young, home from Bermuda, is at the Copley Plaza . . . The popular Boston actress is the subject of a biography, now being written . . . While in Bermuda, Miss Young visited with Margaret Hewes, erstwhile boss of the Provincetown Theater . . . "Heartbreak House," the Shaw play which is being performed successfully in New York, will be the next venture of the New England Repertory group . . . Costing is under way.

Moment later bus and home went zooming into space, landing 75 feet away. Now see if you can tell which is the house and which is the bus, and which came down first.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

Expose the Plotters!

The Editor Says: The letter of Congressman John W. McInerck of Boston to Secretary of State Cordell Hull demands every American, particularly Americans who would like to stay out of foreign wars and international complications.

"The cartoon clearly shows," says Congressman McInerck, "that an international organization exists to obtain citizenship in the United States of American citizens and that a contract is entered, those who respond to the transportation force and through the Communist organizations exposed in that nation, reach their ultimate destination."

"It is clear that the Communist Party in the United States, and its movement throughout the world, is actively working to obtain citizenship in that army."

Congressman McInerck's statement is supported by the action of Captain A. H. Halpern, Dorchester young man, who, in a Boston Evening American exclusive series of articles, revealed how he and other young Americans were "recruited" in Boston, transferred to France, and eventually moved to Spain to fight with the Red forces.

It is the duty of Secretary Hull to act. It is also the duty of Congress to support him in this matter.

The American people's determination to avoid being plunged into fighting abroad is powerful. So powerful that individuals who engage in such conflicts must be EXPOSED and PUNISHED!

A MOTHER'S PREMONITION caused her to take her keys of her son's bicycle. Eventually she returned them. A few hours later, while riding the "bike," the son received injuries that resulted in his death. This actually happened in Brighton.

What is "premonition"? Is it what the dictionary says it is, the anticipation of an event without conscious reason?

Those are important questions. We cannot answer them now. We can only hope that future minds will be wiser, more successful. Harvard and other great institutions of learning, spending thousands of dollars in psychic research, may learn how and why gifted persons are able to look into tomorrow and see events before they occur.

Then, perhaps, "premonition" will come to mean "the anticipation of an event WITH conscious reason." But little of value ever has been ascertained. It certainly would not cheer the average person to see depressions, suffering and death so long as he could not do anything to stop them.

DELINQUENT EMPLOYERS, more than one thousand in number in Massachusetts alone, are rebuked by Thomas B. Chase, assistant director of Internal Revenue, for failing to comply with the Social Security Act.

The new penalty provisions will now impose a penalty of 5 per cent of the tax liability for every day of thirty days.

Mr. Chase's job is to put emphasis on the penalty. But he has the authority to do this in this case. The government usually does not sue the employer.

The government is in the fact that the negligence of these employers imposes the people who work for them of Social Security benefits.

This is not justice in the extreme. It cannot continue. People who pay for Social Security ought to be able to get it. No employer should ever stand in the way.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Vaguely the political pattern of 1938—dimly foreshadowing the completed fabric of 1940—is taking shape upon the national scene.

The farmers are in revolt against New Deal deficits and economic failures, even as they go to the bank to cash Henry Wallace's checks.

Labor is not merely divided, but each faction within labor is in a mood to die for the cause in which it believes.

The deficit is showing in every penny to date will spread as the present campaign progresses. They will form a rushing tide of disaster by 1940.

It takes a lot of brass nerve for Mr. Sayre, Secretary Hull's "expert" to go down in the agricultural South and tell the farmers that they have hope to pay their taxes from the new pay treaty, but as the old song used to say "That's all the honest old farming can do."

Representative Anderson, of Michigan, formulated these figures from congressional reports.

For example, under Mr. Hull's "pay treaty" for the benefit of the farmers, it based from 1933 to 1937 to 494,000 bushels in 1937. Hog imports increased from 6000 pounds in 1933 to 1,000,000 pounds in 1937. Pork hams and bacon increased from 100,000 pounds in 1933 to 1,000,000 pounds in 1937. Butter imports increased from 1,000,000 pounds in 1933 to 11,000,000 pounds in 1937. Lard imports increased from 1,000,000 pounds in 1933 to 11,000,000 pounds in 1937.

MR. ANDERSEN summed up in a way that makes Mr. Sayre look silly:

"IT TOOK FROM 15 TO 20 MILLION ACRES OF FOREIGN FARM LAND TO PRODUCE THESE IMPORTS, WHICH WERE SOLD IN THE UNITED STATES IN COMPETITION WITH THE PRODUCTION FROM AMERICAN FARMS."

Hull and Sayre are proceeding on the theory that the American farmers are naps.

Wallace is proceeding on the theory that the Washington politicians can regiment 'em with a checkbook.

The primary returns thus far demonstrate that Hull, Sayre and Wallace are using their hats for a microphone.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

NO MAN is so miserable and reactive as the one who is married to a curious woman, who is forever digging up his private thoughts, unearthing his secret emotions and probing his sacred, personal feelings.

The most dangerous moment in a love affair or a marriage is that in which a woman stops saying, "I understand you, darling!" and begins saying, "I see THROUGH you, Old Dear!" No man wants to be seen through, and the woman who really understands him is the woman who never lets him know it.

But don't suspect your husband of having committed a crime every time he comes in looking mysterious as the Sphinx.

That "misunderstood" expression he is wearing is merely another defense mechanism. It means, "DO NOT DISTURB!"

What of Today, Tomorrow?

Maine Shows How To Make Play Pay

Within the present generation the recreational advantages of New England have developed a natural industry in this corner of the nation, an industry that has but one product—the happiness of the visitor within our gates.

In view of general business conditions throughout the country, what are the prospects for 1938 in this industry of multiple millions of dollars?

Today Maine speaks!

By PAUL WHELTON

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

Recreational development has brought uncounted jobs to men and women workers of Maine in the comparatively few years since recreation became BIG BUSINESS.

And it will CONTINUE to bring jobs, for business conditions all over the nation generally do not appear to constitute any barrier for what Maine will accomplish in one year, particularly in the summer months.

"Maine is putting another record-breaking year in its great recreational business," Governor Lewis O. Barrows told the Boston Evening American today.

"LAST YEAR ALL RECORDS WERE BROKEN BY A $105,000,000 RECREATIONAL BUSINESS, DESPITE LESS FAVORABLE BUSINESS CONDITIONS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY AS A WHOLE."

"I intend to present that in this year, and every year, at least for the present."

And the state of Maine, in its many ways, is a model of industry and enterprise. Such is the case.

"OUR RECREATIONAL BUSINESS MEANS MORE THAN THAT WE WILL COME OUT VISITORS WITH SINCERE CORDIALITY."

We enjoy having the in come to Maine. We want them to enjoy themselves in this great playground of sea coast, lakes, mountains and forests.

"WE DO OUR UTMOST TO MAKE THEM FEEL AT HOME AND PROVIDE EVERY FACILITY POSSIBLE FOR THEIR CONTINUED PLEASURE."

"I place particular emphasis on the word ANTICIPATE, in contrast to the word expecting. This means that the state is getting ready for many visitors this summer in every sense of the word."

"IT MEANS THAT AN ARMY OF WORKMEN IS PREPARING HIGHWAYS, THOUSANDS OF MEN AND WOMEN ARE PLACING HOTELS, SPORTING CAMPS, INNS, COTTAGES, SUMMER HOMES AND OVERNIGHT CABINS IN READINESS."

"We are putting the finishing touches on golf courses and tennis courts."

"Summer theaters are being renovated and improved, additions are being built to many recreational centers, boys' and girls' camps are being inspected and improved in anticipation of the annual exodus of 15,000 youngsters from the metropolitan centers."

"Following the influx of spring fishermen to Maine there will come hundreds of visitors attending a series of big conventions which open the season at the larger resort hotels."

"Next will come the thousands of other boys and girls to summer here, and the state at this time of year is known as a playground where they will have the best of everything, and the BEST TIME OF THEIR LIVES, as well as excellent food and sports."

"SUMMER ACTIVITIES WILL COMMENCE IN EARNEST WITH THE ARRIVAL OF MANY THOUSANDS OF VISITORS NEXT MONTH."

"The summer activities have been planned by the state and the local communities have made arrangements for a busy season."

"NUMEROUS OUTSTANDING EVENTS ARE SCHEDULED FOR MAINE THIS SUMMER."

"Remember that summer vacations are diversified activities, the Maine Development Commission has promoted such recreational sports as fishing, yachting, sailing, golfing, horseback riding, mountain climbing by improving existing facilities, encouraging new developments and increasing state interest."

"An example of this type of development is the co-operation given to the Maine Horse Association, which in the past four years has increased from a few scattered riding enthusiasts to a state wide organization of more than 400 riders."

"A 1300-MILE NETWORK OF BRICK TRAILS HAS BEEN LAID OUT NEARLY A SCORE OF ORGANIZED CLUBS ARE ACTIVE IN VARIOUS SECTIONS AND AN ANNUAL TRAIL RIDE ATTRACTS SEVERAL THOUSANDS OF SPECTATORS."

All these developments mean more jobs and the chasing away of that shadow of fear which, for so many years, has been the bogeyman of straitened times.

"MAINE IS THE PIONEER STATE IN RECREATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND PROMOTION, WITH AN OFFICIAL RECORD OF 13 YEARS OF ACHIEVEMENT."

"Now constant improvement of its fine highway system, of its natural facilities and increased activity in recreational sports, a long-range program sponsored by the Maine Development Commission are attracting more and more visitors to Maine this year."

"MAINE IS READY FOR HER 1938 SUMMER VISITORS."

(Tomorrow, in the Boston Evening American, will appear another article in this series on making play pay.)

New Revue on Gayety Stage

A bit of a tear mingled with a great deal of honest laughter is the musical comedy success "Bei Mir Bist Du Schweig" which opened a six-day engagement to a capacity house at the Majestic last night under the management of Jacob Youngman.

The fact that the song hit by the same name came from the show and the title is with the great award given James Naughton and his sister and can in 1964.

The two acts and nine scenes unfold a tale as often related in real life in days gone by. Bernard Baskin craves a wife and two children in Poland while he seeks his fortune in America. Once here he marries his wife and sets up as a gold digger.

Boston's son travels to America and discovers the plot; until all are ready, El Shom goes to India where recent visit to Boston with the Mizrachi Schwartz company endeared him to Boston Jew. That's where he is author of the first 3. And the time being merely to the 4th.

Anna Nathanson, wife of the star, a registered singer in the cast, and Samuel Kwan, almost a professional actor in a leading role. He is a Weintraub, before Elmer, wife of Elmer, Sam Ganz, Diana, and Ludwig Meyer Schwartz, David Berger and Mary Barak, combine the excellent all star cast. Royce and Barak off.

The revival booking of "The Count of Monte Cristo," opening today at the RKO Babylon Theater, is the occasion for an Alexander Thomas night, honoring the memory of this famed writer on Monday.

Distinguished members of the local French colony have been invited to attend. They include Gaston Thierry, Gustave Deschaux, Abdon Laus, Rene Marchant, Walter Dumas, A. Favre, Rene Louis, Louis Peters, Rene Du-

A pimple is a small bump and the less it is disturbed the better. If one is to avoid a scar, it is necessary to keep the skin calm and scrupulously clean, but it must be applied with a little of the following. To soothe the skin, rub gently with a coarse cloth as a massage. Rub in the circle with the finger tips. Use a clean face and warm water. Most of all, be patient.

Candy Stripe Cotton

YOU NEED to something, by now, of the importance of stripes in the fashion picture. Nor of the dirndl! And when it's a washable striped cotton dirndl as downright smart and effective as this one, and which costs around five dollars, you've got to admit we have something here! Notice the shirred skirt fullness, the clever arrangement of stripes in the bodice, and the funny little gathered pouch pocket, sewn on at the top only, which swings from the belt! For shopping information on this find, phone Annie Brink, Fashion Editor, Liberty 4000, weekdays until five, or write her at the Boston American.

Wearing of Mourning

DEAR MRS. BECKMAN:

Will you please advise me as to the best wearing of mourning for a widow? How long should a widow wear it? It does not have a deep leader.

NEWARK, N. J. (Mrs. Beckman writes to the Boston American on the day of the funeral. First or "deep" mourning.)

(that is, clothes and accessories of dull black) is worn for a year (sometimes for two years, according to the preference of the widow), and then second mourning for from six months to a year.

Mrs. Beckman will be glad to answer questions on Good Manners submitted by readers.)

Beau Sends Grad Flowers

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Just as the graduation season is upon us, with flowers the graduation men for one and the graduates for the other.

A GRADUATION CORSAGE BEAT MISS FAIRFAX

I have just had the pleasure of seeing a very beautiful corsage which was worn by a graduate of the University of Massachusetts. It was a very beautiful corsage, and it was very well made.

The corsage was made of a very beautiful material, and it was very well made. It was a very beautiful corsage, and it was very well made.

SENSATIONAL OFFER

3 BIG VANADIUM STEEL KNIVES

$1.50 VALUE
FOR ONLY 50¢ THE SET

—plus cardboard disc from top of a Spry can

NOT just one knife, mind you, but all three! It's the biggest bargain of the year. Every modern kitchen needs this set. They're the handiest, most useful knives you ever owned. They have a marvelously keen cutting edge. And because the blades are genuine Vanadium steel, they hold their cutting edge far longer than ordinary steel blades. You'll be amazed.

Ready to start planning about the size of these knives and their many uses. I can't say to your grocer for a can of Spry today. You'll find this set. All-vegetable shortening makes all baked and fried foods doubly delicious. Spry moves in half the time, gives lighter cakes, flakier pastry, crispier fried foods, and so digestible a child can eat them. Try Spry today.

"LOVE IN SWINGTIME"

Biff Makes Vow To Forget Music

What Has Happened:

At a Harvard dance, Tommy Dorsey gave Biff Brown, a student, a chance to show. Biff showed real talent as a clarinetist, his solo won the Dorsey swimmers proving a positive sensation.

His success delighted everyone except his girl, Harriet Cardale, a Conservatory of Music student. Biff wanted to join Dorsey's band but the maestro advised him to complete his college course.

Harriet urged Dorsey to dissuade Biff from a swing career, but in six months young Brown had gone to New York and asked for a job. At breakfast, Biff tells Tommy what happened since the Dorsey band left Harvard.

Now Continue:

CHAPTER FOUR

After the dance, when Harriet thought it was all over, she found her lover did not count on Biff's love. He intended to give up his instrument, and never think, play or even hear of music again.

"I'll remember my clarinet, stored it away, and I'll dump and broke them into thousands of pieces. He gave his radio away to a friend. 'That's the end of that,' he resolved. He was a little sad at the thought of never again going into a hot break-down or 'rubbing the man's'."

And yet not as upset as he thought he should have been. So he wasn't sorry he had ignored the impulse to be a swing musician.

Biff told Harriet about the change of heart, and she was still under the impression that he was all set to leave her. Two days after my conversation with Harriet, they had a date.

The date was a breeze that rustled the trees breaking the stillness of the quiet old college town. On his way to the girls' dormitory, Biff bought a bunch of violets.

BIFF'S PROMISE

When this was his last night together, Harriet was thinking as she came down the stairs. The contrast between the beautiful evening and her own life was so sharp that she could bear. Biff was all smiles, she noticed. How could he smile? Was he glad to be leaving?

"Darling, it's good to see you," he said, taking her arm.

She said nothing as they walked along. She was afraid to talk. She only squeezed his arm, clinging to him desperately. They directed their steps to the Confectionery Shop.

"It's hot enough for an ice-cream soda, isn't it, honey?" he asked.

"Ch-huh," was all she could answer.

The shop was jammed with students. They sat at the counter, elbows touching. He gave the clerk a look at her position.

"What's the matter, sweetheart?" asked, touching her hand.

"I won't be able to bear not seeing you again."

"Who said you won't see me?" he asked.

"I thought Dorsey."

"I was just a darned fool, Harriet," he exclaimed. "I'm staying here."

"Oh, Biff," she whispered.

Their sodas came, but Harriet was too happy to notice. Their drinks remained on the counter, untouched for quite a time.

"I realized that kind of an existence is not for me," she said. Then he told her how he had disposed of the pipe, the flatters and the radio.

"It was good of you to make such a sacrifice for me, Biff," she declared proudly.

"I do know how much swing meant to you. Now I know you really, really, do love me. I guess no man could prove it more." She felt as if she had never been so close to him before.

Arm in arm, they walked out of the shop. Biff's new fear entered her mind.

"Are you positive you want to do this?" she demanded nervously. "Maybe you'll regret it later, and be sorry you married me."

NO REGRETS

"No, darling," he reassured her, holding her even tighter. "Of course, I'll never regret it. Don't you realize that's what I really want?"

She wished to believe him. "Dear-est," she said, trembling. "I'm so happy. I never thought I could be so happy before."

Biff placed his strong arms around her slim waist, pressing her to him tenderly. Their lips met, for the traditional eternity.

"How wonderful," she breathed softly, "to be young and alive and happy like this."

Completely unconscious of everything but themselves, Harriet and Biff walked slowly down the street, hearing nothing but the murmur of their mutual vows.

The newly-found happiness of Harriet and Biff was to be short-lived. Biff sincerely tried to carry out his resolution, but it was too hard. Once a cat, always a cat! For the first few weeks he did keep away from the clarinet, and whenever a hot lick ran through his head he would push it away with all his willpower.

Gradually the itch to finger the keys of a clarinet grew stronger and stronger. And the more he denied himself this pleasure, the more tantalizing it became. Swing was water, food, air to Biff. He tried every way he could think of to drive this terrible craving out of his system.

He studied his books avidly, walked a dozen miles a day, did everything a human being can do to tame something rebellious within himself. He would try to put his thoughts only on Harriet, to evoke her image so he could forget the thrill of swinging out on a barrelhouse chorus.

HE COULDN'T RESIST

When they were together she could distract him from his mania but, when he was alone, again he became possessed. All this time he never told Harriet about the struggle.

One night the desire was too strong to overcome.

"I'll just see what the old stick looks like," he told himself. He unlocked the drawer in which he had stored his clarinet and took out the case. His eyes gleamed with a strange fire as he frantically opened it.

He was like a starving man staring into a restaurant window.

Biff's fingers twitched as he seized the old stick and screwed on the mouthpiece. Its silver stops were as gleam like waves in the sunlight. "You sure are pretty," he whispered, caressing the clarinet as though it were a woman's hand.

Then, as if he were about to commit a crime, he ran to the door and turned the key in the lock. He put the clarinet to his mouth, his lips closing hungrily around it, and blew a few, uncertain notes into the still air. Then he looked around guiltily and wiped his face.

He played up and down the scale, his tone gaining in fullness as he blew. He tried the upper register for a few bars. Then he ad libbed some variations on the blues, real low down. Before he knew it, he was hitting it out in a real Trinidad chorus of "Nobodies' heart."

BIFF BREAKS DATES

Biff kept all this a secret from Harriet. He started buying records again, picking up the latest waxings. He began to listen carefully to the radio, often playing along with the band that was broadcasting.

There were many evenings now when he made an excuse to Harriet.

as he could stay home and practice under the old man's supervision, right when he failed to keep a date and forget to make an excuse.

His work, which after he finished work at the college dining hall where he waited on tables, to a job which was considered by the so-called spartan element and only the wildest of students. They served neither beer and whiskey that just missed being a hurry up call for the corner.

Biff didn't go there to find a job. He was already, getting the habit of going to the club. Biff had started hanging around the club with his clarinet, since the dive had acquired an old pianist from the street corner by name, who offered out meagrely for the decoration of the place.

Years before, Cromer had played with many of the big name bands. Since Biff had resumed his clarinet, the two had struck up a friendship, based on their common interest in music.

Cromer would delight the young swimmers for hours with his old-time tunes. He played like a Frank Tschanniker, King Oliver, Hoagy Carmichael, and the other great names of swing. Cromer had known them all. And he knew just as few men did. He would listen to Biff play and correct his errors.

EXPERT ADVICE

"Now, that lick there, kid," he would murmur, cracking his fingers nervously. "That's strictly ragtime. I mean, it sounds good. Get a new Biff in there."

"All right, sir," Biff would answer, respectfully.

Or: "Don't play that diminished seventh all the time. Quit copying Biff and be yourself, kid!"

If Biff tried to execute a fast piece of gutbucket, Cromer would chuckle and growl. "Who's you think you are, Fud? I'll teach you."

"What have you got on for tonight?" Cromer asked this night as Biff approached the piano. The place was crowded with woody women and their untutored companions. Cromer was half-attending over the upright piano, his eyes glassy.

Sees NRA Threat in Wage Bill

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics, New York University

NEW YORK, May 26.—Just as we begin to write a letter about the wages and hours bill, a letter which says:

"Business must work together with our government, for after all, the government represents the people of the country."

This statement has a faint bearing on the bill.

First, is the bill a threat to business? and does the passage of it on Congress by Mr. Roosevelt represent the people?

In your letter you say: "Business must work together with our government, for after all, the government represents the people of the country."

I hold that when a government does not represent the people, it is not a government.

Our government is not a government. It is a dictatorship of a few men in business.

The wages and hours bill is a threat to business.

Austen Lake Says Jimmy Foxx: An Essay on Color

FOLLOWING A PROLONGED DEPRESSION in his professional career Jimmy Foxx is enjoying a rousing revival with the Red Sox and the time has come to give the human fireplug some overdue credit. He has cuffed in 44 runs, or ten more than his nearest major league rival. He has knocked nine home runs with the new 'possum ball and he is hitting .349.

Still the customers, here or elsewhere, never waylay stout Jeems for his signature or pester him for sample baseballs, as they used to do with Babe Ruth and still do with Lefty Grove. Though he probably sums up to as fine an athletic figure as Dizzy Dean or Rabbit Maranville or Ruth in their respective primes, the citizens of our town don't wait in patient queues for Jimmy to shower, towel, dress and emerge from the little green door under the Fenway stands. They don't delay him long past his dinner hour scrawling his name as they did when Ruth was an obese rich man, infirm on his limbs and past the age when he could tote his adipose person over the grass. What is this stuff called glamour?

The Red Sox house fan's about Foxx was a sudden change from the depression which had been the result of his long absence from the field. The fan's about Foxx was a sudden change from the depression which had been the result of his long absence from the field. The fan's about Foxx was a sudden change from the depression which had been the result of his long absence from the field.

THE PEOPLE JUST WON'T CUDDLE unquiet characters to their bosoms. Nor will the newsmen exploit tractable types in their day documents. So Foxx lacks that undefinable attribute which we call "color." He isn't a diving, sprawling type of athlete who flops around in the dust losing his cap and throwing eye-lash putouts who spinning on the back of his neck. And he suffers in popular appraisal mainly because he can't make the easy look hard and never attempts to make history on a simple grounder. So for lack of some picturesque to say we say little or nothing and publicize some crackpot with a penchant for trouble.

Well there was, one admits, a majesty to Ruth's massive upholstered torso as it poised on its spaghetti legs and he flicked his big bat as though it was a buggy whip. And there was something imposing in the might of his missed swings or the unpropitious tilt of his budgeon as he sent it spinning toward the dugout after drawing a free pass.

At HIS PINNACLE, THE BABE WAS AN indifferent, apathetic workman in his training and attended strictly to his own chores and shied his conditioning to the point where he drove the late Miller Huggins and the later Joe McCarthy to internal convulsions. But Foxx volunteers for such extra-curricular jobs as warming up the kid pitchers, slapping fans on the substitute help and shagging balls during batting practice. And he does this with the quiet industry of an unspooled schoolboy, even to helping Johnny Orlando, the club house menial, carry out the batting lumber when he finds the lad struggling with an overload.

Well that's the way life goes, to coin an expression. One doesn't sell any papers by pointing Sunday school morals to the sport customers. We look for fun, piquancy and flavor. So we love Babe Ruth for such human acts as the time that he raised his glass, filled with water in answer to ex-Major Jimmy Walker's request to go straight for the sake of the duty-faced kids in the street, and pledged that henceforth this would be his drink and anybody who saw him taking anything stronger could call him the lowest down cussword they could set tongue to.

So Jimmy's ability to sell the ball over the fence was a measure of his natural concern than his nonsense, his lies and injuries. And though Foxx they don't want of his nonsense, Jimmy has blended the pallid quality of an unexciting come and go with his natural gifts and as he has degenerated and the price the little bricks from which columns are built, his personal magnetism has been lessened by imperceptible increments. Good looks, a certain charm which lures no customers through the Fenway, do you suppose magnetism is the basic element that makes for glamour?

Ross Will Win, Conway Says

Zanelli 10-9 Over Kaplan

The future of two of the best boxing prospects in New England will be at stake tomorrow night at the Boston Garden when Ralph Zanelli and Mike Kaplan clash in the 10 round featherweight bout.

Ralph Zanelli

Zanelli, 22, is a native of Boston and has been training with Coach Mike Kaplan for some time. He is a powerful fighter with a strong chin and a good left hand. Kaplan, 24, is a native of New York and has been training with Coach Mike Kaplan for some time. He is a powerful fighter with a strong chin and a good left hand.

Zanelli, who has a record of 10 wins and 9 losses, is a powerful fighter with a strong chin and a good left hand. Kaplan, who has a record of 10 wins and 9 losses, is a powerful fighter with a strong chin and a good left hand.

HOME RUN DERBY

Home Run Derby will be held at the Boston Garden tomorrow night. The contest will be between Jimmy Foxx and Babe Ruth.

Welter Champion Risks Title Against Armstrong Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, May 26—Barney Ross, who has been the War Admiral of boxers since the night he lifted Jimmy McLarnin's world welterweight crown, will try to halt the sensational run of victories of Henry Armstrong, spectacular featherweight champion, in a 15-round battle at the Garden Bowl at Long Island tonight.

Ross' welterweight crown will be at stake. Barney still rules a 7 to 5 betting favorite to win.

I think Ross will shake the jinx that has followed every champion who has defended his crown in the Garden Bowl, and leave the ring the winner.

Armstrong Gives Ross 5 1-2 Pounds

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—

Barney Ross, 142 pounds, welterweight champion, was 5 1/2 pounds heavier than his challenger, Henry Armstrong, at the time of their last fight at the Long Island Bowl.

Ross, who is 34 years old, has a record of 142 wins and 14 losses. Armstrong, who is 27 years old, has a record of 14 wins and 14 losses.

The fight will be held at the Garden Bowl at Long Island tonight. The bout will be a 15-round battle.

The winner of the match in my opinion favor Ross. The champion will win at 110 pounds when Armstrong lifts himself up a 100 pounds. At the same time Ross will be 115 pounds. This will be a big fight.

Ross, who is 34 years old, has a record of 142 wins and 14 losses. Armstrong, who is 27 years old, has a record of 14 wins and 14 losses.

Newsom Denies Gambling Debt in Suit Here

Boston Man Sues for 'Buck' For $438.50

Louis Norman "Buck" Newsom, St. Louis Browns' pitcher, was absentee defendant today in a Roxbury district court suit based on what his lawyers called a "gambling transaction."

The suit was brought by Eugene T. Wermuth of Boston for recovery of an alleged loan of $438.50.

Counsel for Newsom filed declaration asserting the Browns' pitcher owed no such debt.

If there ever was such a so-called "loan," as alleged by the plaintiff, it was part of a "gambling contract" and was hence without legal standing in Massachusetts, the Newsom declaration said.

MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

However, this suit may cause another upheaval in big league baseball circles should it be brought to the attention of Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball.

Landis has been a bitter foe to baseball stars involved in betting transactions and there is a strong possibility that Newsom's actions off the field will be investigated by the baseball czar.

Midland Wins W.G.A. Title

By BILL GRIMES

Midland captured the 18th annual Women's Golf Association of Massachusetts district championship, 5 to 4, today, in a playoff round from the Central team, the defending champions, at the Oakley Country Club.

Mrs. C. Bartholomew's victory over Mrs. Sidney Regal gave Midland the title.

One down to the 18th tee, Mrs. Bartholomew won the hole to square the match and then went on to sink a 16-foot putt on the 20th green for match and triumph for her team.

Mrs. Warren Beard, former state champion, defeated Deborah Verry, state champion, in the 3-hole playoff.

This was the match which drew the greatest gallery and which was expected to be a nip-and-tuck affair all the way through, but Mrs. Beard was up to her game today and coasted to an easy victory.

Crick in Back

Connie Goes to Bed

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, was confined to his hotel room today with what he described as "just a little crick in my back which pops up every three or four years."

"Guess I'll have to stop hitting fungoes," laughed the 75-year-old baseball veteran. "Seriously, though, I feel 100 per cent outside of this little back trouble and I'll be in fine shape in another day or so."

Stengel Praises Cooney, Reis Playing

By WALTER KILEY

From one end of the circuit to the other, National League clubs are looking with deep concern and alarm toward Boston where Casey Stengel's Beas are putting on a baseball show which borders on the sensational.

These surprising "upstarts" have won nine of their last ten games, four of them in extra innings, seven of them by one run margins. And in only one of the ten have they been outbatted, while they fielded almost flawlessly despite patched-up lineups.

The Bees fought to a pair of straight decisions over the Dodgers at Brooklyn. They returned home to lift three in a row from Pie Traynor's Pirates.

They took the one and only game of the St. Louis Cardinals series. They split with the Cubs, and now hold two consecutive wins over the Reds.

And from nowhere Stengel—the new "Miracle Man"—comes up with two new stars aborning who may shake pace Boston to a place in the league sun.

Right this moment he is thanking his lucky stars for the fate which influenced the acquisition of Johnny Cooney and Bobby Reis, so-called reserve men.

"There are no two more valuable players in the game than Cooney and Reis," the man of magic remarks.

"Both of them can play the outfield or the infield. Both were once pitchers and good ones and can step in tomorrow if needed and hurt a pretty fair game. And catch, too, if we had to have them."

Cooney took over right field when Gene Moore was laid low with a charley horse and despite a nagging chest cold which is still with him had the fans raving over his flowing motion fielding.

"And he can play center and left fields just as beautifully," Ole Case continues.

In the 11-inning 2 to 1 win over the Reds, First Sacker Fletcher came up lame in the opening inning, and again Cooney was called into service. And again he demonstrated his ability to handle any assignment.

Reis batted for Warbler in Tuesday's spectacular 10 to 9 victory, delivering a run producing hit. On Wednesday he was again pressed into service, replacing the ailing Max West in left field.

"You may not know, either, that besides playing both the outfield and infield, Reis hurled better than 500 ball in the National League," Stengel tells. "And that's good pitching."

"Further they tell me he can catch as well as the next fellow. I have been informed that when Bill McKechnie was worried a year ago with an injury to Al Lopez, leaving only Ray Mueller as a catcher, Reis stepped in and told Bill not to be alarmed, he could catch with the best of them."

And what with colds and injuries and lamenesses bothering his regulars, this pair are proving real nuggets.

Gardner Heads Auto Qualifiers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 26 (INS). Five additional cars qualified for the 26th annual 500-mile Memorial Day race next Monday in test runs at the two and one-half mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway Oval, increasing total qualifiers to 19.

With three days left for drivers to attempt to qualify, 11 variances remained in the starting lineup of 23 cars.

Chief Gardner of Long Beach, Cal., headed the qualifiers when he turned the ten laps around the speedway at an average speed of 124.356 miles an hour.

Gardner was preceded by Jimmy Snyder of Chicago and "Wild Bill" Cummings of Indianapolis. Snyder opened activities by qualifying at an average of 123.566 miles an hour. Cummings' average was 122.392 m. p. h.

George Connor of Los Angeles was the fourth driver to pass the speed test. He turned in an average of 120.224 miles per hour for the 25-mile trip.

Frank Wearne of Pasadena, Cal., gained a berth in the starting field when he qualified at 121.469 miles an hour.

Durocher Named Brooklyn Captain

BROOKLYN, May 26 (AP)—Leo Dappi, Durocher, shortstop obtained last winter from the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named field captain of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Appointed by Manager Burtleigh Grimes, he is the first captain the Dodgers have had since Lonny Frey, now with Cincinnati, held the job in 1932.

Kocsis, Haas Fade From Tilt

TROON, Scot., May 26 (AP)—Happy, excitable Charley Yates of Atlanta today became America's sole survivor in the British amateur golf championship as the combination of a wild wind and rain storm and some stubborn domestic opposition drove U. S. Champion Johnny Goodman, Charles (Chuck) Kocsis of Detroit and Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans to the sidelines.

Yates beat Andrew McClure, 7 and 5, this morning, and followed up with a 6 and 5 decision over Dr. W. M. Robb of England, conqueror of defending champion Robert Sweeney yesterday.

But Kocsis who had whipped Goodman, 3 and 2, in the morning round, fell apart in the afternoon's storm and was put to rout by local favorite Johnny Stevenson, a native son, 7 and 5, and Haas was beaten, 2 up, in the morning by Sam McKinlay, Glasgow golf writer.

Moving into the quarter-finals with Yates and Stevenson was C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, present Canadian and former U. S. titleholder, who picked up one hole on the back nine to beat R. C. MacGregor, Jr., 3 and 2, and H. W. Haverley of Australia, whom Somerville will meet tomorrow.

Kocsis' driver deserted him and he reached the turn in 41, five over par and four down to Stevenson. He lost No. 2 when his second hit the sand, but the next on a misjudged two-footer and went 3 down at the fifth where he was bunkered off the tee. His touch obviously gone, he scrambled down the sixth against the wind for a half in 6's but caught the sand again in the seventh then missed a five-footer to lose the hole. Only a great third shot after his second had landed in the gorse, enabled him to halve the ninth.

Yates, looking more and more like the last U. S. hope, turned four up on Dr. Robb. He won the second when Robb three-putted and the fourth, fifth and sixth with par as Robb pulled his tee shots into the rough. Charley retained his lead through the ninth.

Yates picked up another at the tenth, when Robb three-putted again, and went six up at the 12th, where the Englishman hooked his second into the sand. Charley then matched the Doctor's bogey five at the 13th to win the match, 6 and 5. Yates wins, 6 and 5.

Billy Myers Shown the Way

Billy Myers, one of New England's best well-known anglers, has found a new fishing partner. It's none other than Louis Jacob, retired electrician and restaurant owner, the veteran angler caught his limit while other fishermen were experimenting with every lure in their tackle box. The new rig has a piano wire leader with a red and white spinner that holds the fish when they strike. Edmund Bryant, violin maker originated the hook-up and brother Louis has perfected the manner in which it should be used.

Greyhound Bill Gets Under Wire

ALBANY, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—The greyhounds raced into New York's Constitutional convention today just in time to make the deadline for proposed amendments to the State's organic law.
A measure, sponsored by Delegate Nicholas A. Rossi, New York City Democrat, would make pari-mutuel betting on greyhound racing an exception to the State's anti-gambling law. The proposed amendment provided for a "reasonable return" on the wagers for support of government.

SECOND RACE

Regal Link, Lady Hay, Questionable

REGAL LINK appeared to be several best, when she finished fourth to Questionable in her maiden start. Lady Hay was beaten only a nose by Questionable in the above race. Thelatter has a weight shift of eight pounds against his chances.

THIRD RACE

Happy Knot, Legion, Saundersdown

Happy Knot was a dead short mare in her seasonal debut. She must be accorded just one more chance. Legion was ridden like he was going to the bunts, when he finished fourth to Metarsun in his most recent start. SAUNDERSDOWN has been away since FORTY-FOUR, but he has splendid advance notices from the clockers.

FOURTH RACE

Fre War, Garden Message, Dick Merril

FRE WAR slipped a mile and 70 yards in 1:44 to win by two lengths from Garden Message in his only start at the meeting. GARDEN MESSAGE figures close at the weights. DICK MERRILL finished in front of the top selection in one of his Jamaica races.

FIFTH RACE

Fosterly, Stage Beauty, Endymion

POSTERLY failed by the narrowest of margins to head Deep End in his last race. He drops six pounds in actual weight. STAGE BEAUTY was beaten only a length by Rotoless in her most recent start. She picks up weight to the tune of 15 pounds. ENDYMION figures on his last race.

SIXTH RACE

High Velocity, Peligross 2nd, Gerald

HIGH VELOCITY, under his impost of 18 pounds, does not appear to have any the worst of the weights in the sixth. PELIGROSS 2nd, barely nosed out by Teufel adds 11 pounds. GERALD for remainder.

SEVENTH RACE

Dancing Cloud, Wright Iron, Star Loom

If anything slows up DANCING CLOUD it will likely be WROUGHT IRON. The latter was beaten a length and one-half by the top selection in their most recent meeting. STAR LOOM must be rated a possibility.

EIGHTH RACE

Moralist, Espinaca, Brass Monkey

MORALIST returns to the scene of many past triumphs and that good ale N. E. air may work wonders. ESPINACA, third to Peaceful and Sun Crax in most recent essay, is the figure horse and danger. BRASSA DA MONK is partial to the route.

50 Children Periled By Gas in City Hospital

'Quins Today' By Dr. Dafoe

No man in the world is qualified to write this story, and the two others that will follow, except Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the country doctor in a backwoods Canadian village, who knows the Dionne Quintuplets better than any other person. Dr. Dafoe brought the five little girls into the world. He fought to keep them alive. He brought the Quintuplets through early crises and watched over them constantly as they grew into the healthy, fun-loving youngsters who will celebrate their fourth birthday Saturday. Three questions are up permost as the Quins begin their fifth year of life:

What sort of girls are they? How do they live? What is in store for them? Dr. Dafoe answers these questions in three exclusive articles. In the first, printed below, the doctor gives a word picture of the girls as they are today, tells of their development and gives an accounting of his stewardship.

By DR. ALLAN R. DAFOE

Physician to the Dionne Quintuplets
(Copyright, 1938, by NEA Service)

CALLANDER, Ont., May 26—The Dionne quintuplets are four years old, and it is time that I, who brought them into the world and have watched over their welfare since, give to their millions of friends a picture of the girls as they are today, and at the same time an accounting of my stewardship in guarding the lives and health of the famous babies.

As a preface to any account of the development of Roosevelt Assassination Urged at U. S. Nazi Camp?

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Representative Dies (D.) of Texas told a startled House today he had information that at "one of the principal Nazi camps" in the United States a speech had been made by a member of Congress advocating the assassination of the President of the United States.

The Texan did not identify the member or amplify the charge. He made it at the start of debate on his resolution to authorize an investigation by a seven-man House committee of the extent, character and objectives of un-American propaganda in the United States. Dies said he was not an alarmist, but that he had had "shocking" information concerning the extent of a Nazi movement in this country.

Ross Has 5 Lbs. On Armstrong

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Barney Ross will have a five-and-one-half pound edge over challenger Henry Armstrong when he defends his welterweight boxing championship over 13 rounds tonight. Ross weighed in at 141½ and Armstrong 139¼ at the New York State Athletic Commission offices at noon today.
